Since 1985

Have you ever walked through a rainforest at night, guided only by torchlight and the sounds of the wild?

Do you know which creatures wake up when the forest goes to sleep?

What secrets do towering trees that are hundreds of years old hold within them?

Have you ever seen Flying frog or a Lizard?

Step deep into the mystical world of the rainforest – a living treasure chest of towering trees, sparkling streams, and secret life forms hidden in every corner. This retreat is your chance to explore one of nature’s most vibrant ecosystems up close, guided by experts who will help you unlock its mysteries.

From the moment you set foot on the trail, every step takes you deeper into a world teeming with life. Hear the songs of unseen birds, follow the footprints of wild creatures, discover rare plants with unique adaptations, and watch the forest transform as day turns into night.

“The rainforest is more than just a place – it is an ever-changing classroom, an adventure ground, and a sanctuary for the soul.”

Over 2 nights and 3 days, you will:

- Walk through enchanting nature trails alive with biodiversity.
- Embark on night explorations to witness the forest’s secret nightlife.
- Get a chance to see rare and mystic wildlife.
- Camp in the heart of the wild, under a canopy of stars.
- Wade through refreshing jungle streams.
- Learn through engaging talks and interactive sessions on rainforest ecology.

This retreat is not about observing from afar – it’s about immersing yourself in the raw wilderness, learning from it, and carrying its wisdom with you.

Where is the Rainforest Retreat Happening?

Our journey takes us deep into the evergreen forests of Agumbe, where misty hills, hidden waterfalls, and winding trails await. Known as the “Cherrapunji of South India,” Agumbe is a breathtaking hill station nestled in the Western Ghats of Karnataka. Famous for its lush rainforests, rich biodiversity, and stunning sunsets. Agumbe is also home to the iconic King Cobra and serves as a hotspot for researchers and wildlife enthusiasts alike. The experience combines natural beauty, adventure, and cultural richness — making it an unforgettable destination for trekkers and nature lovers.

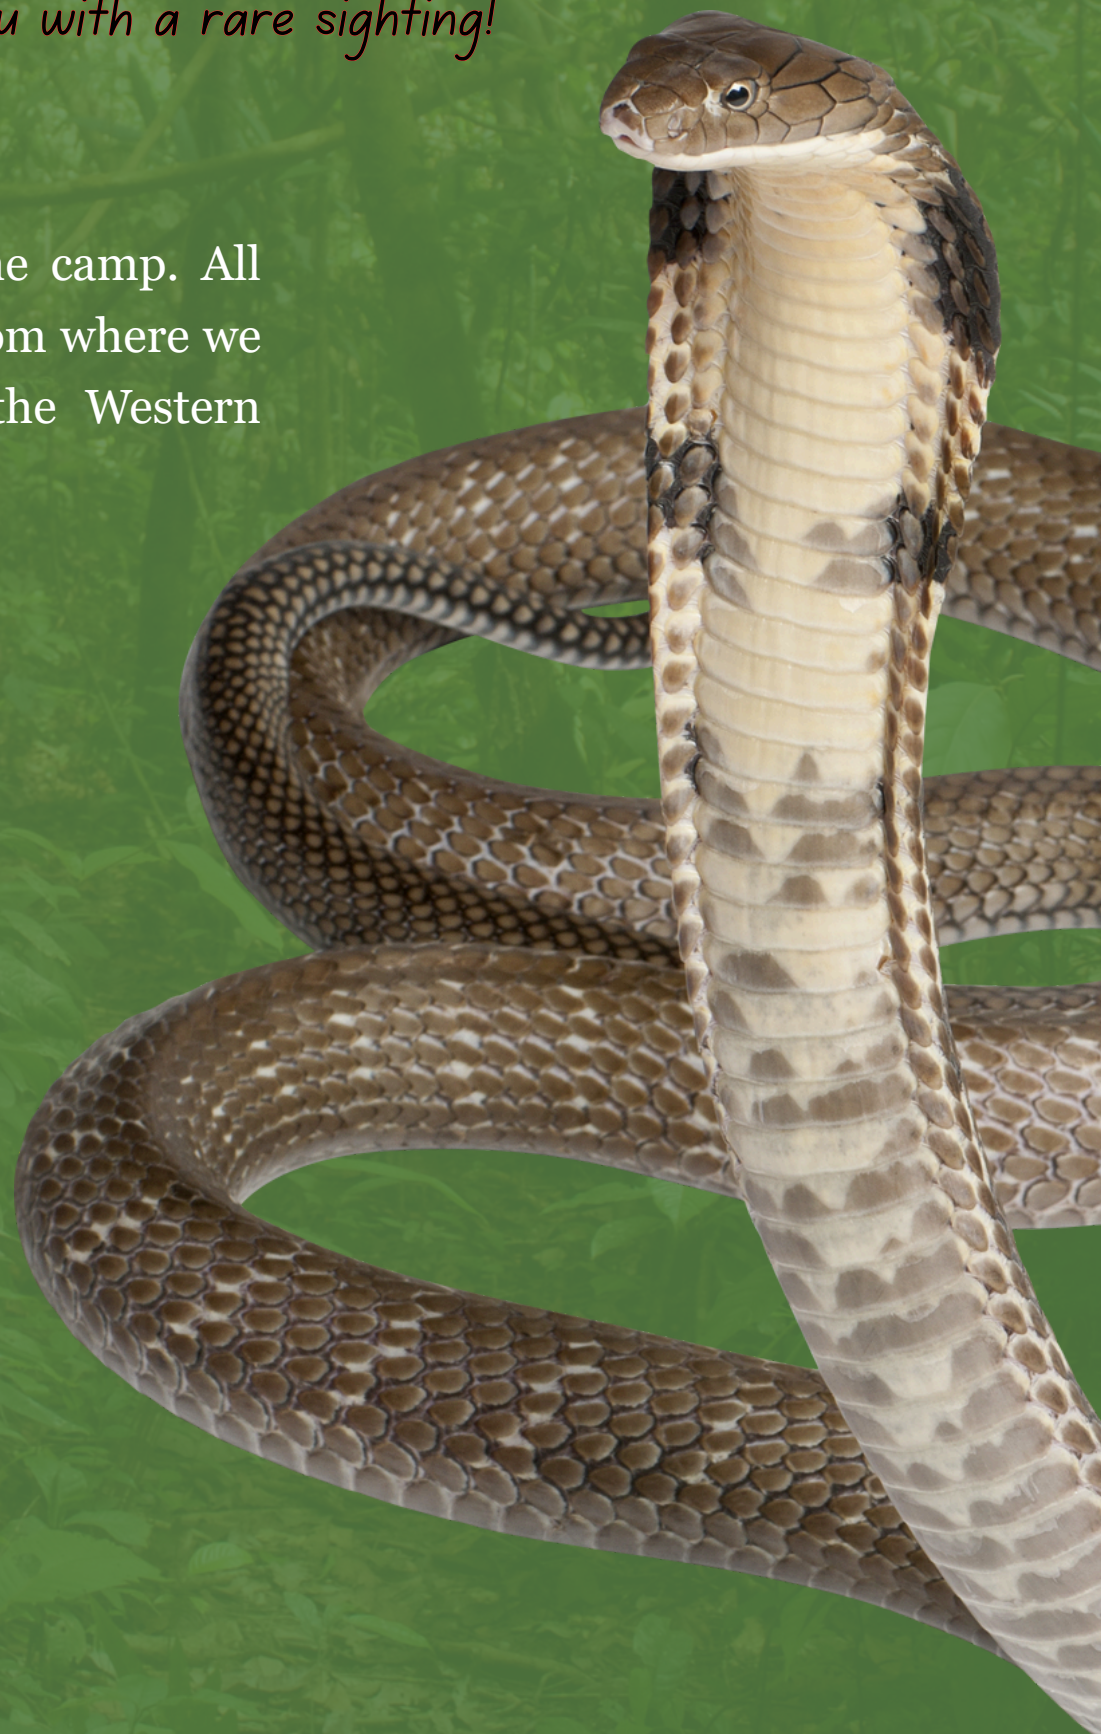

*"Agumbe isn't just a rainforest — it's the kingdom of the King Cobra.
Who knows, fortune may bless you with a rare sighting!"*

Camp Reporting Point

Agumbe itself is our starting point for the camp. All participants are required to report here, from where we begin our adventure into the heart of the Western Ghats.

How to Reach Agumbe

- By Road: Agumbe is well connected by roadways. The nearest major city is Mangalore (100 km away). You can hire a cab or board a bus via Udupi and Hebri. From Bangalore, Agumbe is about 380 km (8–9 hours by road).
- By Train: The closest railway station is Udupi (54 km away), well connected with Mangalore, Bangalore, and other major cities.
